PATENT LICENSE AGREEMENT AGR-0043

SYNTHETIC DOCUMENT. GoNoGo generated this agreement for evaluation. It is not a real NASA license.

This Patent License Agreement ("Agreement") is entered into on June 20, 2021 by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration ("NASA"), an agency of the United States, and Corvid Defense Analytics Limited ("Licensee"), having its principal place of business at 10 HaBarzel Street, Tel Aviv 6971005.

Article 1. Grant. Subject to the terms of this Agreement, NASA grants Licensee a partially exclusive license under the Licensed Patents to make, use, and sell Licensed Products within the Field of Use and the Licensed Territory. The Licensed Patents are NASA Case No. LAR-17981-1; NASA Case No. LAR-18762-1; NASA Case No. LAR-18762-P.

Article 2. Field of Use. The Field of Use is limited to civilian use power generating applications below 400,000 feet above Earth's mean sea level, and the field of stationary (where stationary means permanently fixed and not capable of being moved) power/energy sources for the United States Department of Defense (specifically the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard, as well as any Space Corps) applications below 400,000 feet above Earth's mean sea level.

Article 3. Licensed Territory. The Licensed Territory is United States (ISO 3166 code US).

Article 4. Term. This Agreement takes effect on June 25, 2021 and remains in force until June 23, 2031, unless terminated earlier under its terms.

Article 5. Royalties. Licensee shall pay NASA a running royalty of 2.6 percent of Net Sales and a minimum annual royalty of 25,000 U.S. dollars. This Article is confidential.

Article 6. Sublicensing. Licensee may grant sublicenses within the Field of Use with the prior written consent of NASA.

Article 7. Export Control. Licensee shall comply with all United States export control laws and regulations that apply to the Licensed Products and related technical data.

Article 8. Signatures. Signed for NASA by the Licensing Officer, NASA Langley Research Center, and for Licensee by its authorized officer.
